

I Claim:

1. An improved structure of heat sink is combined with the base and the structure of the closed mini pipeline; the length and width of said base are in accordance with some machine elements causing waste heat for connecting closely with said machine elements as a whole; by way of the cooling effect produced when the solution in the pipeline of the structure of closed mini pipeline connecting with said base circulate and change manually in the liquid state and steam, which makes some machine elements causing waste heat cooling.

10

15

20

25